

Study the definitions of the words. Then do the exercises that follow.

absurd

ab sũrd'

adj. So unreasonable as to be laughable; foolish or silly.

You'd look absurd in a suit and tie at the beach.

.....
Tell your partner an absurd idea, like an elephant riding a motorcycle or a cat becoming president.

accomplish

ə kãm' plish

v. To do something by making an effort; to complete successfully.

I know I will accomplish these errands by noon.

accomplishment n. Something requiring skill and determination that is completed successfully.

Anne Sullivan's great accomplishment was to teach a child who was deaf and blind to speak and to read.

.....
Share with your partner something you want to accomplish this year.

ascend

ə send'

v. To rise, usually in a steady way.

The rocket ascended to a height of five hundred feet before falling to Earth.

dense

dens

adj. 1. Tightly packed; crowded close together.

The tired explorers hacked their way through dense vines and bushes to reach the coast.

2. Thick; hard to see through.

At the airport there was such dense fog that planes couldn't take off.

3. Stupid, thickheaded.

I don't want to seem dense, but I don't understand your question.

.....
Tell your partner how you feel when you are walking in a dense crowd of people.

experiment

ek spər' ə mənt

n. A test to prove or discover something.

The experiment shows that oxygen and hydrogen combine to form water.

v. 1. To carry out experiments.

Benjamin Franklin experimented with a kite to show that lightning was a form of electricity.

2. To try out new ideas or activities.

A good cook experiments with different herbs and spices to create new dishes.

flimsy adj. 1. Easily damaged or broken; not strongly made.
flim' zē The cart was too flimsy to carry such a heavy load.

2. Not believable.

Saying you lost your pen is a flimsy excuse for not doing your homework.

heroic adj. 1. Very brave; showing great courage.

hi rō' ik The teenager dove into the pond and made a heroic rescue of the child who couldn't swim.

2. Showing great determination; requiring enormous effort.

Firefighters made a heroic effort to put out the blaze.

lumber n. Wood that has been sawed into boards.

lum' bər Have you ordered the lumber for the deck you are building?

v. To move in a clumsy or heavy way.

The old dog lumbered toward me.

.....
Demonstrate for your partner how to lumber from one end of your table or desk to the other.

mimic v. 1. To copy or imitate closely.

mim' ik The parrot fascinated us because it could mimic human speech so well.

2. To make fun of by imitating.

I got upset when you mimicked my friend's singing.

n. One who can imitate sounds, speech, or actions.

A good mimic carefully studies the person being imitated.

significant adj. Important; full of meaning.

sig nif' ə kənt July 4, 1776, is a significant date in American history.

significance n. The quality of being important or of giving meaning.

The significance of the Bill of Rights is that it spells out important freedoms that should be enjoyed by all Americans.

.....
Tell your partner the significance of friends in your life.

soar v. 1. To fly high in the sky.

sôr We watched the eagles soar until they were just specks in the sky.

2. To rise suddenly and rapidly.

The cost of a college education is expected to soar during the next few years.

spectator
spek' tāt ə

n. A person who watches an activity; an onlooker.
The spectators jostled each other as they rushed onto the field at the end of the game.

suspend
sə spend'

v. 1. To hang while attached to something above.
The hammock was suspended from the porch ceiling.
2. To stop for a while before going on.
The subway suspended its main route for two days while the track was repaired.
3. To bar from working, attending, or taking part for a while.
The students caught cheating were suspended from school for one week.

.....
Suspend your vocabulary study for thirty seconds while you take a deep breath.

terminate
tər' mə nāt

v. To bring or to come to an end.
Heavy rain terminated the tennis match after only ten minutes of play.
.....
Discuss with your partner what you plan to do when this school day is terminated.

unwieldy
un wēl' dē

adj. Hard to handle or control because of large size or heaviness.
The sofa was so unwieldy that getting it up three flights of stairs was a real challenge.

9A

Finding Meanings

Choose two phrases to form a sentence that correctly uses a word from Word List 9. Then write the sentence.

- |                                  |                                 |
|----------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 1. (a) If you suspend something, | (c) you bring it to an end.     |
| (b) you make a copy of it.       | (d) If you terminate something, |

_____

_____

- |                          |                                |
|--------------------------|--------------------------------|
| 2. (a) is easily broken. | (c) Something that is dense    |
| (b) is tightly packed.   | (d) Something that is unwieldy |

_____

_____

3. (a) To accomplish something (c) is to raise it to a higher level.
(b) is to complete it successfully. (d) To mimic something
-
-

4. (a) that ends quickly. (c) that shows great determination.
(b) A heroic effort is one (d) An absurd effort is one
-
-

5. (a) To ascend is to (c) test or try out an idea.
(b) To experiment is to (d) increase in size or amount.
-
-

6. (a) A flimsy container is one that (c) is not strongly made.
(b) An unwieldy container is one that (d) is meant to hold liquids.
-
-

7. (a) go to a higher level. (c) fall into a drowsy state.
(b) To ascend is to (d) To lumber is to
-
-

8. (a) someone who plays. (c) A spectator is
(b) someone who watches. (d) A mimic is
-
-

9. (a) move in a clumsy way. (c) To soar is to
(b) To lumber is to (d) feel pain or discomfort.
-
-

10. (a) that is meaningful. (c) An absurd statement is one
(b) A significant statement is one (d) that goes on longer than necessary.
-
-

9B

Just the Right Word

Replace each phrase in bold with a single word (or form of the word) from the word list.

1. The movie is about the very brave women and men who fight forest fires.
2. The bicyclists could not see through the very thick fog.
3. The comedian usually gets lots of laughs when he imitates the sound of the voices of famous movie stars.
4. Francine's story about seeing a live dinosaur is too silly to be believed.
5. The Mayflower passengers' spirits suddenly rose when they got their first sight of land.
6. Leave the box where it is if you think it is too large to be picked up and carried easily.
7. Coach Louis told us that any player who fails a course will be not allowed to take part in any games for the rest of the season.
8. My family's visit to the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington, D.C., was especially full of meaning because my uncle's name appears there.
9. The class's carefully controlled attempt to discover if it was possible to create a tiny volcano was very successful.
10. The wood that has been sawed into boards is stacked outside so that it will dry.

absurd

accomplish

ascend

dense

experiment

flimsy

heroic lumber

mimic

significant soar

spectator

suspend

terminate

unwieldy

Applying Meanings

Circle the letter or letters next to each correct answer. There may be more than one correct answer.

1. Which of the following can be dense?
(a) a person (c) a hole
(b) a crowd (d) a forest
2. Which of the following can soar?
(a) hopes (c) prices
(b) cows (d) birds
3. Which of the following would be an accomplishment?
(a) going to the kitchen (c) cheating on a test
(b) winning a gold medal (d) eating a pizza
4. Which of the following can be suspended?
(a) a bird feeder (c) work
(b) a mistake (d) a student
5. Which of the following would be unwieldy?
(a) a piano (c) a 72-inch television set
(b) a flute (d) a sleep sofa
6. Which of the following could have significance?
(a) a marriage (c) a graduation
(b) a death (d) a birth
7. Which of the following might you experiment with?
(a) hair styles (c) clothing
(b) a chemistry set (d) food
8. Which of the following can be flimsy?
(a) an aroma (c) a shelter
(b) a task (d) an excuse

Word Study: Homophones

Read the following sentences. If the word in bold is used correctly, write C on the line. If the word is used incorrectly, write I on the line.

Words that sound the same but have different meanings and/or spellings are called homophones. Here are five pairs of homophones:

prey/pray course/coarse route/root hew/hue soar/sore

1. We tried to get to the route of the problem. ____
2. The wolf seized its prey in its jaws. ____
3. I will prey for the safe return of those still missing. ____
4. The coastal root is the quickest way into town. ____
5. Mauricio's manners are rather course. ____
6. We watched the rocket soar until it was out of sight. ____
7. We pray that we will get there on time. ____
8. A soar knee kept me from racing. ____
9. We left the harbor and set a coarse for Nantucket. ____
10. The route to the mountain summit is well marked. ____
11. Sharp tools were needed to hew the boat from a single log. ____
12. My job was to hue the branches from the tree. ____
13. The cost of living is expected to sore in the coming year. ____
14. Coarse salt is made up of larger grains. ____
15. The daffodils were a deep yellow hue. ____

absurd
accomplish
ascend dense experiment
flimsy
heroic lumber
mimic significant soar
spectator
suspend
terminate
unwieldy

The Sky's the Limit

For as long as people have watched birds soar far above the earth, they have dreamed of being able to fly. The Montgolfier brothers of France, Jacques and Joseph, thought of a way this might be possible. In 1782, after observing smoke and hot air rising from a fire, they made a small cloth balloon and filled it with hot air. Then they watched it rise seventy feet. Hot air is less dense than cold air. This means that hot air is lighter. The warmer, lighter air inside the balloon caused it to rise.

The next year they built a balloon with a diameter of thirty-five feet. They filled this one with hot air also; they burned wool and straw on an iron grate that rested in a large basket suspended beneath the balloon. This one rose successfully, too. So, they built another balloon that was even bigger. In September 1783, the Montgolfier brothers gathered a large crowd, which included the French royal family. The brothers placed a sheep, a duck, and a rooster in the balloon's basket and released it. The balloon ascended to a height of fifteen hundred feet. It stayed in the air for eight minutes.

A hot-air balloon rises because it is lighter than the air around it. But the idea that something heavier than air could ever get off the ground seemed absurd to most people. Not everyone thought so, however. By the late 1800s, after the invention of the steam engine and, later on, the much lighter gasoline engine, the first airplanes were being made. Some of these had movable wings to mimic the flapping of birds' wings. These were too unwieldy to fly. Some were powered by steam engines. These were so heavy they couldn't get off the ground. When the airplane's frame was made lighter, the plane became flimsy. This was another big problem. Indeed, many early flights terminated in a crash. Some people believed that to fly in those days was almost a heroic act.

It took another pair of brothers, Orville and Wilbur Wright, to figure out how to build a machine that could stay up in the air. The Wright brothers made and repaired bicycles for a living at their shop in Dayton, Ohio. They were like many other people at the time; the idea of flying fascinated them. They spent some time experimenting with kites and gliders. Then they built a plane with rigid wings that was powered by a small gasoline engine. This was much lighter than a steam engine.

December 17, 1903, is a significant date in the history of flying. On that day in Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, the Wright brothers demonstrated that a heavier-than-air machine could successfully fly. Just a handful of spectators were there to watch. The plane, with Orville Wright at the controls, began to lumber across the grassy field. The people cheered as they saw the plane lift off the ground. It stayed in the air for twelve seconds before landing about 120 feet away.

That afternoon the Wright brothers made three more flights—the longest, lasting fifty-nine seconds, covered 852 feet. They had accomplished their goal. They had made it possible for humans to fulfill their dreams of flight. One hundred years later, an exact copy of the Wright brothers' plane was built. To celebrate the one hundredth birthday of their achievement, it was supposed to make a flight in Kitty Hawk on December 17, 2003. It looked just like the Wright brothers' plane, but sadly it failed to get off the ground. You can see the airplane the Wright brothers built at the National Air and Space Museum in Washington, D.C.

- Answer each of the following questions with a sentence. If a question does not contain a vocabulary word from the lesson's word list, use one in your answer. Use each word only once.

1. Why is a hot-air balloon able to rise?

---

---

2. Why is Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, significant in the history of flying?

---

---

3. Describe one accomplishment of the Montgolfier brothers.

---

---

4. How high did the Montgolfier brothers' first balloon rise in 1782?

---

---

absurd
accomplish
ascend dense experiment
flimsy
heroic lumber
mimic significant soar
spectator
suspend
terminate unwieldy